

ADDITIONAL UKRAINE SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2022

The Additional Ukraine Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2022 provides nearly $40 billion in emergency funding to support the Ukrainian people and defend global democracy in the wake of Russia's unprovoked attack on Ukraine.

Title I – Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies

Department of Justice (DOJ):

- $67 million for DOJ General Administration to help cover the costs of seizing, retaining, and selling forfeited property (e.g., the yachts of Russian oligarchs) related to Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

Title II – Defense

Ukraine Security Assistance Initiative – $6 billion to provide assistance, including training, equipment, weapons, logistics support, supplies and services, salaries and stipends, sustainment, and intelligence support to the military and national security forces of Ukraine.

Replenishment of US stocks – $8.7 billion to replenish US stocks of equipment sent to Ukraine through drawdown authority.

European Command Operations – $3.9 billion for mission support, intelligence support, hardship pay for troops deployed to the region, and equipment including a Patriot battery. The bill also increases the cap on assistance that can be provided to friendly foreign nations from $450 million to $950 million.

Defense Production Act – $600 million to mitigate industrial base constraints for faster missile production and expanded domestic capacity of strategic and critical minerals.

Munitions and Exportability funds – $500 million to procure critical munitions to increase the stocks of the Department of Defense and $50 million to develop program protection strategies for systems identified for possible future export.

Oversight – Requires an Inspector General to report on activities to execute funds in the bill and the Department of Defense to report on measures taken to require enhanced end-use monitoring of equipment provided to Ukraine.

Title III – Energy and Water Development, and Related Agencies

Nuclear Regulatory Commission – $2 million for technical and regulatory support to Ukraine's nuclear regulatory agency.

Title IV – Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies

Administration for Children and Families – $900 million to provide refugee support services, such as housing, English language classes, trauma and support services, community support (including school impact grants), and case management, for arrivals and refugees from Ukraine.

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention – $54 million to provide medical support, screening, and related public health activities for arrivals and refugees from Ukraine.

In addition, the legislation allows for certain benefits to be offered to arrivals and refugees from Ukraine after undergoing background checks.

Title V – State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs

Of the amounts included, more than $5 billion in total is included to address rapidly growing food insecurity globally and the impact of rising food prices because of the conflict in Ukraine. This includes humanitarian and development assistance and is made available through both bilateral and multilateral channels.

Department of State – $13.926 billion, including:

- $350 million for Migration and Refugee Assistance to provide humanitarian support for refugee outflows from Ukraine.
- $4 billion for the Foreign Military Financing Program to provide additional support for Ukraine and countries affected by the situation in Ukraine, including NATO Eastern flank countries and other partners in the region, to build and update their capabilities.
- $8.766 billion for the Economic Support Fund to respond to emergent needs in Ukraine, provide needed budget support to assist with Ukraine's continuity of government, and counter human trafficking. Includes $760 million to prevent and respond to global food insecurity.
- $190 million for Diplomatic Programs for diplomatic support, and planned return, of Embassy Kyiv as well as supporting the operations of other Embassies in the region.
- $10 million for the Capital Investment Fund to support technology requirements related to the relocation and reopening of Kyiv Embassy.
- $110 million for Embassy Security, Construction, and Maintenance to make needed infrastructure and security repairs for Embassy Kyiv.
- $400 million for International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement for Ukraine programming to support law enforcement and the rule of law, including the investigation and documentation of war crimes and human rights atrocities and programs to combat human trafficking.
- $100 million for Nonproliferation, Anti-terrorism, Demining and Related Programs to protect against chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear incidents and expand demining programs.

U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) – $4.365 billion, including:

- $4.35 billion for International Disaster Assistance to provide emergency food assistance to people around the world suffering from hunger as a result of the conflict in Ukraine and other urgent humanitarian needs of populations and communities inside Ukraine.
- $17 million for Operating Expenses to support operations that have had to move from Ukraine and possible return to Kyiv.

Oversight – $5 million, including:

- Department of State Inspector General – $4 million to provide oversight of emergency funds and operations of the Department of State.
- USAID Inspector General – $1 million to provide oversight of emergency funds and operations of USAID.

Multilateral Assistance – $650 million, including:

- $500 million to support the specialized facilities of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development to support Ukraine's economic and energy needs.
- $150 million for the Global Agriculture and Food Security Program to help countries, including Ukraine, weather impacts from rising food prices.

Increased Authorities – The legislation includes $11 billion in authority to draw down defense articles and services and increased flexibility to provide excess equipment and direct procurement to Ukraine and other regional allies.

Title VI – General Provisions

Bill Emerson Humanitarian Trust – $20 million to reimburse the Bill Emerson Humanitarian Trust, which is a critical backstop when international famine needs exceed available normal funding for U.S. assistance.

Department of the Treasury – $52 million for special agents and associated support to trace Russian financial activities including digital asset tracing, attribution of concealed efforts, and identifying true beneficial ownership. In addition, resources would support efforts to identify and combat the exploitation of Ukraine's vulnerable financial system.

Late Representative Don Young – Provides for the gratuity payment for the beneficiary of the late Representative Don Young (R-AK).

Waiver Language for Certain Intelligence Programs – Waiver language for certain intelligence programs.

In addition, technical budgetary provisions are included.
